nights . . .

There never were knights like us; yet we are bound to those of yesterday and to those of tomorrow. We see the world from riots in South Africa to troops in Somalia to a squelched Russian parliamentary coup. We see our nation from a struggling new president and first lady to conflicting views of health care, gay rights and gun control. And we see it all through the eyes of St. Andrews. Every set of peepers is distinct but embedded in a rock of ultimate wisdom and diversity. Let us see the truth of the past, the possibility of the future, but most of all let us see the beauty of today. Remember the knights!

When men learn early that growing as individuals means being.

Amid bagpipes, parents, beachballs, goodbyes, green eggs and ham, tears and faculty quacking, the St. Andrews graduating class of 1993 left this dimension and entered a new one. Commencement was for memories and thankfulness, fear and jubilation. Above all, the day belonged to the seniors. The ceremony pulsed with raw energy. Parents produced this energy, St. Andrews cultivated it and society now harnesses it.

Katie Watts engineered the final gathering of faculty and seniors and sealed the bond with a primitive "quack!" which shall be echoed tirelessly. Annette Dunlap presented a stirring rendition of Dr. Seuss' Green Eggs and Ham to emphasize the essence of a SA education — never limit your horizons!

On May 8, 1993, St. Andrews graduated yet another class; now, the page turns and the legacy continues.

Curtain opens.

The last year begins for SA's senior play. Years of experience produce a masterful performance — one full of life and insight. Graduation brings a maturity and proficiency to the final act of a four year dress rehearsal. As an actor, each senior personalizes their own distinct role. St. Andrews, thus, serves as the cast of a community related to each other throughout the plot. As the curtain falls and the cast receives new scripts in new plays, the background of the St. Andrews experience remains. New roles of adventure, drama and comedy are met with newly found cunning and finesse.

Soliloquy: The spirit of SA is an eternal part of the Class of '94, just as the spirit and the voice of the graduating class belongs to our history, our present and our future.

Applause.

Going out in style!

What kind of man can we buy for a dollar?

"So Mark, now that you've graduated, what are you going to do next?"

Hubba-Hubba!!!

edication

When a community member at St. Andrews mentions the name, Will Duncan, images of a sender, blondheaded fellow emerge in the mind. One can immediately envision a handsome smile and a greeting delivered by a slightly light voice, saying, "how's it going?" This was Will. Many often inquired of Will, "how is it that you are always so upbeat, so cheerful; your attitude is always positive." He always replied, "I have to be cheerful and try to keep a positive attitude. My life may be the only Bible that some people will ever read."

October 1993

Dear Will,

It's been a long time since we last spoke. In your absence, however, things have not changed dramatically. Life at St. Andrews continues as it was; parties, classes and SAGA are as usual.

However, for me, life has changed. The things we shared such as Ray Stevens and nachos with cheese and salsa are not the same. Bart Simpson is no longer ceremoniously watched on Thursday nights, and Byron is getting tired of being the object of my pent up frustrations (plus, he's a heck of a lot harder to overturn).

More importantly, I miss our closeness. You truly made St. Andrews worth coming home to. Enjoying God's beauty on display with you was a highlight of our time together. During these excursions, we shared our most intimate thoughts and secrets, and you always challenged me to live up to the St. Andrews motto, "Excellence for Christ". I only hope that I can be as much of an inspiration to others as you have been to us here at St. Andrews.

*In loving memory,
Your devoted roommate,
Kevin*

Juniors . . .

mmortality

Juniors have mastered college life — conquered it even. Academic and social lives alike have taken a comforting shape as a cloud of security elevates the junior above the guileless coming and going of others. From this pivotal position both fresh inexperience and seasoned finality are met with tender smiles. Such anxieties belong to another era. Wisdom and time rest with juniors for they have transcended SAGE!

Sophomores . . .

Sophomores are the adolescents of the SA Community. Their vast experience has led to sublime wisdom – ask any of them, they'll tell you. From Laurinburg to Europe, to Asia, to Africa, sophomores personify that special diversity that makes SA what it is. And what is it?

vigorous
many-sided
light-hearted faithful primitive sophisticated

Add a touch of self-confidence that comes from the maturity of knowing yourself and not your status. Let this lust for life extend beyond a mere corner of civilization and the sophomore is on the other side.

Freshmen . . .

irth

Welcome to the world of SA!

Freshmen enter a quiet campus bringing the first sweet breaths of life that rejuvenate a disbanded community. Orientation is the birth certificate giving passage to a coat of arms ready to embrace. In a matter of time, dorm rooms become homes, peers become family, professors become friends. Questions abound.

Why do I have to take SAGE? Who is Jim and where is his place? Will I survive midterms? Will I survive Ganza?

The attempted concealment of candid innocence binds the freshmen of SA as bittersweet beginnings form the memories of a lifetime.

Friends today . . . Friends tomorrow

Dedication

Thomas L. Reuschling

As our nation is in transition, St. Andrews doth follow. In such a time, the President is the most visible character of the game — a three dimensional character that is often only seen from a one dimensional view. For the endless nights, the tireless meetings and the ever-ready smile, the rewards are few. As we say goodbye to President Thomas L. Reuschling, who joined us in 1988, let us reflect on the expanse of his spectrum of influence. Dedicated to over 250 employees and a source of support and encouragement for over 2,000 students throughout the years, Reuschling exhibited a personal factor so vital to the SA atmosphere. His business affairs as president were driven by the desire to see our community well-being united and steadfast. For the perservance of our heritage and the insurance of our future, we thank him. May the blessings of St. Andrew follow him and his family always.

Seven St. Andrews students spent the fall semester at Brunnenburg Castle in the Tyrolian Alps of northern Italy. At the castle, the students engaged in various activities. They studied Ezra Pound, Saints and Heros, and Poetics In Space. In an agriculture class, students made wine. They studied there from August until the end of November. Then for a week and a half, they took a walking tour from Venice to the South of France.

SPORTS

Looking back through the year in sports at St. Andrews, many questions were answered and many new questions arose. We are inspired by the bright underclassmen who will continue to make their presence felt for years to come on and off their respective playing surfaces. We also feel a sense for those seniors who wore their uniforms and graced St. Andrews with their skills for the last time. We have enjoyed the successes of all of our St. Andrews teams, and we now look toward next year with bright anticipation.

The past year has been filled with memorable moments in sports at St. Andrews. The Volleyball team made its inaugural trip to the National Tournament. Coach Ben Guiliano left to take a job with Division I Creighton University. St. Andrews won the Jody Hawn Cup for the best overall athletic program and rated first in the district with a 97% graduation rate for athletes.

Volleyball

Another Successful Season

After becoming only the second team in Carolinas Conference history to repeat as Conference and Tournament Champions, the knights went on to successfully win the Bi-District 9 and win an inaugural berth into the 14th NAIA Volleyball Nationals held at Point Loma Nazarene College in San Diego, Ca.

The knights finished the regular season with a 14-0 record and 18-0 against conference opponents for the year.

Individual Honors were awarded to:

Jill Deinhart – Carolinas Conference and District 26

“Player of the Year”, All-Region Team

Kim Ladd – All-Conference, All-District, All-Region

All-Tournament.

Rhonda Farmer – All-Tournament.

Tristy McKenney – All-Tournament, Tournament MVP

Tracy Milliman – All-Tournament

Ben Guiliano – District 26 Coach of the Year

“Conference Champs . . . Again!”

Tristy McKenney looks on as Rhonda Farmer powers a point.

Jill Deinhart spikes one of many this year.

Ben Guiliano's three years at St. Andrews were productive years. After having a losing season in 1991, he and the Knights bounced back to win the Conference in 1992. In 1993, the team excelled and competed in the National Tournament in San Diego, Ca. Now he has moved on to Creighton University in Nebraska. It's an exciting move and the returning players will miss him. Not only was Ben a great coach, but a great friend to all of us. Thanks Ben and Good Luck at Creighton.

Men suffer a year of growth

Despite a rocky season in which the team finished 2-13-2 Players savored several well-deserved achievements. Senior Ian Pena was named to the All-Conference and All-District Teams. He scored 9 goals for the year. Senior defender Kelly Childers was named to the All-Conference team. A bright prospect for the team is freshman goalie David Getman who had 214 saves for the year. Next year we look forward to the new hope and Coach Bob Sokolinsky.

Men's Tennis

With the return of Jamie Humphreys and Christopher Simmons there is a sense of great optimism surrounding the team. Last year's 5th place finish with a 2-11 record is now far behind them and all eyes are focused with great enthusiasm on the upcoming season.

Last year Christopher Simmons received honors for Carolina Conference "Player of the Year" as well as All-Conference and All-District teams honors.

Women's Tennis

It will be tough to determine the affect of the departure coach Jo Ann Messick on the team.

Last year the team finished second with a 9-3 record in the conference and proceeded to place 2nd in the Conference Tournament.

Track and Field

Last year St. Andrews made great steps forward with their track program and their continued improvement is almost assured with the return of most of the members.

St. Andrews has always been a community of individuals. Over the years these individuals have formed groups for a variety of reasons but they all have a common purpose — sharing and learning from each other. From yesterday's Bridge Club to today's Rugby SA students create a family atmosphere that goes far beyond the academic. Organizations are all about a common bond. Whatever club, whatever group one finds oneself in, the prime activity is one of enjoyment. The smiles of yesterday blend with the smiles of tomorrow. And now for the smiles of today ...

From the Editor

This year has been a transition period for St. Andrews in many ways. The yearbook was also a part of this transition. At the beginning of the school year there was not an advisor nor was there any contract for a yearbook. So, although this may not be what people expected, at least there is a yearbook. This was made possible by many people. Some of the staff quit when things got tough, but these people stuck with it until the end. For them, I am grateful. I could not have done it without them. They are the reason this book exists.

- *Howard Reichner for helping to get the yearbook started*
